

Overview

- You will be shown a set of 10 images extracted by querying the Flickr API with ANPs. We ask you to judge the emotions expressed by these images and ANPs.
- In case some of the images do not relate to the ANP or are missing, mark the emotions based on the majority of the images.
- Select as many emotions as you perceive on seeing the images.
- Each turker must pass a qualification test before start accepting the hits.

Definition

An adjective-noun pair (ANP) is a short phrase that has one adjective and one noun with the adjective describing various attributes of the noun. For example: abandoned factory, old books

Plutchik's wheel of emotions

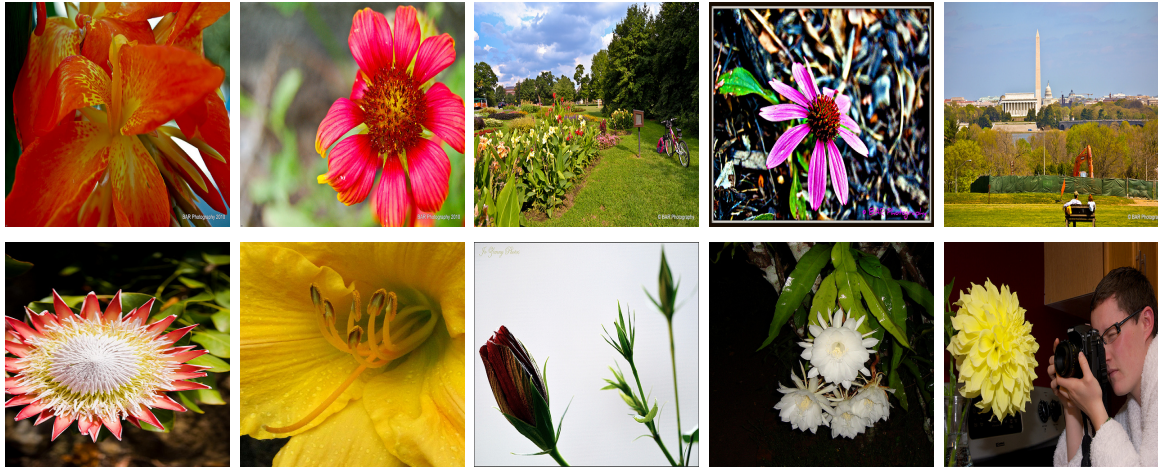

Plutchik's wheel of emotions is an infographic that uses the color wheel to illustrate variations in human affect and the relationship among emotions.

Intensity of emotion and indicator color increases toward the center of the wheel and decreases outward. At the center, terror, for example, becomes fear and then apprehension; ecstasy becomes joy and then serenity. Secondary emotions are displayed as combinations of the primary ones.

Example

Given the following set of images related to the ANP 'big flower'

The relevant emotions invoked are

- Ecstasy
- Joy
- Serenity
- Admiration
- Amazement